

Young Children's Fill in the Blanks

Lesson 1: In the Beginning

Covering Note to Parents

There is a "Fill in the Blanks" Activity Sheet for each of the Young Children's Lessons on this website. This Activity Sheet is designed to provide a simplified summary of the lesson in order to reinforce the material in you child's mind. Plus, there's room at the bottom of each page for your child to draw a picture relating to the material covered in the lesson.

You may want to glue your child's completed "Fill in the Blanks" Activity Sheets into an inexpensive scrapbook and make a "book" of them. From experience, we've found that children will read through these "books" time and time again, especially as they are illustrated with their own pictures!

Making a "book" they can read themselves is a good way to reinforce God's Word in their minds - and, at the same time, provide you (and them) with a delightful record of their writing and drawing. You won't regret the small amount of work involved in doing this!

We've also found that children enjoy looking at the work they've done on the other Activity Sheets, so you may want to include a selection of these in the "book" as well.
